

JONES SURRENDERS AND ADMITS DEFEAT

VICTORY FOR REPUBLICANS IS CONCEDED.

Democratic National Chairman Admits
His Hopes of Success in Doubtful
States Have Not Been Realized—
The Latest Returns Do Not Change the Figures.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Late last night Senator Jones issued the following address to the public:

Democratic National Headquarters, Chicago, Nov. 5.—The result of the presidential election is apparently no longer in doubt. It has been one of the closest contests that the people have been called on to determine in recent years. It seems now to be apparent that, while Mr. Bryan, after making the most brilliant campaign in the history of our country and has carried most of the states claimed to be doubtful, has not carried enough to assure his success in the electoral college. Bryan electors have been chosen from all of the states south of the Potomac and Ohio except West Virginia and all of those west of the Missouri except California and Oregon. He has 190 electoral votes, and this number may be increased by final returns from states yet in question. He has not obtained enough votes to carry the electoral college.

As chief executive, Mr. McKinley will have the cordial support of millions of patriotic Americans who have cast their votes for William Jennings Bryan. They bow to the majesty of the office and abide by the result with none of the mutterings that would have come from the moneyed power had it been unsuccessful.

They are confident the gold standard cannot give the promised prosperity, but will gladly welcome it if it comes. They will continue the great struggle for the uplifting of humanity and in the maintenance of the dignity of our country in the establishment of an American money system. And the democratic party, aided by its present allies, will still uplift the bimetallic standard and bear it on to victory.

JAMES K. JONES,
Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

In the electoral college the vote will stand as follows:

BRYAN TO MCKINLEY.

Defeated Presidential Candidate Wires His Congratulations.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—At 8:20 last evening Mr. Bryan received a message from Senator Jones saying that he conceded the election to Mr. McKinley. Mr. Bryan said that he also conceded the election. He at once sent the following telegram to Maj. McKinley: "Senator Jones has just informed me that the returns indicate your election, and I hasten to extend my congratulations. We have submitted the issue to the American people and their will is law."

Mr. Bryan announced that he would soon issue an address, but in response to inquiries from an Associated press representative he declined to make any statement, or to submit to an interview, further than to say that the fight for silver had just begun. It is known to be his purpose to devote much of his time in the future to educating the people to the acceptance of his views on the financial question, and it is his intention to sound the keynote in the paper which he will issue. He will dwell upon the effects of a single gold standard and will urge the advocates of bimetallicism to maintain their organizations and use their utmost endeavors in behalf of this cause until it wins at the polls.

KENTUCKY IN DOUBT.

Blue Grass State Is Claimed by Both Parties.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The following dispatches were received at midnight at the office of the Associated press:

"Louisville, Ky., Nov. 5.—To M. E. Stone, General Manager Associated Press: On the face of complete unofficial returns from all but three mountain counties, Bryan leads by 1,544. The votes in these three counties last year gave Gov. Bradley 1,864 majority, and have been counted on for considerably increased republican majorities. One precinct in one of these counties has just reported 100 increased republican majority. We believe we have carried Kentucky for McKinley by 600 to 1,000.

SAM J. ROBERTS,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 5.—To the Associated Press, Chicago, Ill.: Kentucky is believed to be democratic by about 2,000.

P. P. JOHNSTON,
Chairman Democratic State Central Committee.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—From corrected returns received Bryan receives 494 more votes in Calloway county, and Hardin county gives 632 more for Bryan. However, the republicans still claim the state will go for McKinley by 478.

VICTORY OF THE MASSES.

So Says Major McKinley in a Message to Mark Hanna.

Canton, O., Nov. 6.—Major McKinley went about town Thursday for the first time since the election, and was warmly greeted by those who saw him. As yet there has been no consideration of the cabinet subject, save as Major McKinley may have turned it over in his own mind, and any personal inclinations he may feel toward particular men have not been communicated to his closest friends. Concerning inauguration exercises also no thought has been given. The understanding is that it is a function to which the national chairman, Mr. Hanna, would attend in due time.

President-Elect McKinley last night sent the following dispatch to Mark Hanna at New York:

"Canton, O., Nov. 5.—To Hon. M. A. Hanna, Waldorf Hotel, New York: Your telegraphic message, announcing the result of the election, has been received. I beg you to accept my hearty thanks for your great services in the cause of sound money and protection throughout the campaign now closed and gloriously won. I will be pleased to have you convey to your associates of the national committee my high appreciation of their efficient services. "The people, in their majesty, ignoring party lines, have declared their detestation of repudiation and dishonor, in whatever specious guise they may be presented. The victory is not to party or section, but of and for the whole American people. We have demonstrated to the world that we are a united people in purpose as in name. Let us, as Americans, straightway devote ourselves to the upbuilding of America; to the peace, honor and glory of our public mind; nor the zeal or temper of common country. Party dissensions should no longer divide or rack the either side deter any citizen from patriotic devotion to the good of all."

"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

INDIANA'S FIGURE IS 20,119.

Official Returns Beginning to Come In—The Contest for Senator.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—The returning boards met throughout Indiana Thursday, and the official returns are beginning to come in. The latest official and unofficial returns place McKinley's plurality at 20,119. The congressional delegation will stand nine republicans and four democrats, a gain of four for the democrats over 1894. The legislature is twenty-two republicans on joint ballot.

The indications are that Charles W. Fairbanks, who was temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention, will be Senator Voorhees' successor. He will have opposition, however. William R. McKee of Terre Haute is a candidate, and has some pledges. Gen. Lew Wallace of Crawfordsville has been asked to be a candidate, but he has not yet announced himself. The republicans on one joint senatorial district have instructed for Hiram Brownlee of Marion, and he may be a candidate. R. S. Taylor of Fort Wayne, one of Gen. Harrison's warm friends, will also probably be a candidate. Mr. Fairbanks' friends believe he already has pledged sufficient to elect him.

Contests in Virginia.

Washington, Nov. 6.—An Evening Star special from Richmond, Va., says: Plans have been mapped out and systematic work already commenced to make a contest in the 2d, 3d, and 5th districts. They claim that there were irregularities in the 2d district sufficient to seat R. A. Wise. Gross irregularities and the dilatory tactics by which no less than 2,000 negroes were disfranchised in Richmond alone, they assert, will almost certainly seat Judge Lewis, the republican candidate in the 3d district. An effort will be made to unseat Capt. Lamb, free-silver democrat, declared elected in the 1st, or Richmond district."

Both Claim South Dakota.

Huron, S. D., Nov. 6.—Republican leaders claim the state by from 500 to 700 majority. The republican state and congressional tickets will have from 200 to 400 majority. In the legislature the populists will have 10 and possibly 12 majority.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 6.—John Bowler, chairman of the state democratic central committee, and U. S. G. Cherry, chairman of the state central committee of free-silver republicans, claim the state for Bryan by 1,000 majority and eight out of 126 members of the state legislature and the state senate by a safe majority.

How Congress Will Stand.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A table prepared by the Associated press from the latest telegraphic returns shows the election of 201 republicans to the next house, 124 democrats, 19 populists, fusionists and independents, a number which perhaps should be slightly increased, as a few of those classified as democrats have independent leanings. Some districts are in doubt, and no attempt has been made to include Washington and South Dakota and three districts in Texas in the list. Washington has probably gone democratic or independent on congressmen.

Iowa Gives McKinley 67,633.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 6.—The returns by counties in Iowa have been completed. The total vote cast in the state is in excess of 510,000 votes, estimating the prohibition and Palmer votes together at only 5,000. Of these votes, 236,751 were cast for William McKinley and 219,118 for William J. Bryan, giving McKinley a plurality of 67,633. This is not only the largest vote ever cast in the state, larger than any previous vote by 70,000, but it is also the largest republican majority ever given in Iowa, Garfield's majority having been 45,000.

Ohio Man for the Cabinet.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—An evening paper says: "It comes from high authority that Andrew Squire of the law firm of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey of this city is to be attorney-general in McKinley's cabinet. The authority is a gentleman who is an intimate friend of Mr. McKinley, Col. Myron T. Herrick, and Mr. Marcus A. Hanna. When Mr. Squire was seen he stated that the subject had never been mentioned between Mr. McKinley and himself, and that he did not believe the place would be tendered him."

Will Be an Extra Session.

Washington, Nov. 6.—An extra session following immediately the inauguration of Mr. McKinley is, in the prevailing opinion here, certain. No one professes to have word from McKinley direct on the subject, but there is good authority for saying that Mark Hanna, during a recent visit in New York, said enough to give the impression that an extra session is on the republican programme. Senator Quay believes an extra session is certain.

Is Tennessee for McKinley.

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 6.—A number of telegrams from Tennessee received here claim that the state is republican. One from Col. Thomas A. Baker of Nashville says that "after all stuffing and stealing" in middle and west Tennessee, the Bryan majority is only 28,000. He expects east Tennessee to give 35,000 for McKinley, and adds that so far the returns indicate that result. Another dispatch from William A. Rule of Knoxville says east Tennessee will give McKinley 37,000 plurality.

North Carolina for Bryan.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7.—The Bryan presidential ticket in this state appears to have been elected by a majority of from 5,000 to 15,000. The returns from counties now in show a close vote, with the Bryan electors leading by an apparently safe majority. Russel (rep.) is elected governor by not less than 12,000 majority. The other republican-populist fusion state officers are elected by 40,000, except the lieutenant-governor, who has a reduced figure.

Kansas Is Democratic.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 6.—Kansas has, without a doubt, elected Bryan electors. This is conceded by Republican State Chairman Simpson. The democrats will probably have four or five of the eight congressmen, and will more than likely have the legislature, insuring the election of a populist United States senator to succeed William O. Pepper. The returns so far received on the state ticket make the result very close.

Wyoming Is Almost a Tie.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 6.—Complete returns from all but sixty-seven precincts in Wyoming give Bryan 26 plurality, Osborne (dem.) for congress, 235. The precincts to hear from cast 2,000 votes. The indications are that the republicans will get one elector, owing to the arrangement of the names on the ballot, and a supreme judge, and that the democrats will get two electors and the congressman.

Tillman Has Hopes for 1900.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 6.—Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina passed through the city yesterday en route home from Chicago. The senator was in good spirits, although he conceded the victory to McKinley. He declared the fight for free silver had only been started, and would be continued. Bryan, he said, would be the democratic nominee in 1900 and would certainly win.

Ohio's Plurality Dwindling.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Chairman Kurtz, republican state committee, says McKinley has good 32,000 to 53,000 plurality in Ohio. The republicans have fifteen congressmen and the democrats six. The poll of the state shows 48,000 to 49,000 populists, whose fusion with the democrats reduced McKinley's plurality.

The Vote in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 6.—Complete returns from forty-four out of the ninety-three counties of the state received at populist state headquarters give Bryan 7,036 majority, and Holcomb, fusion, for governor, 10,645. It is estimated from these figures that Bryan's majority in the state will be about 13,000 and Holcomb's about 18,000.

West Virginia Safe for Gold.

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 6.—Senator Elkins authorizes the following: "From returns and best estimates the republicans carry the entire state of West Virginia for the national ticket by about 12,000 majority. All four members of congress and two-thirds of the legislature are republican."

Total Vote in Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 6.—The total vote of Louisiana with a few precincts estimated, is Bryan, 69,354; McKinley, regular republican electors, 20,145; McKinley, national republican electors, 3,541. Total McKinley, 23,686; Palmer, 1,462. Bryan, plurality over McKinley, 45,668. Bryan's majority, 44,206.

California's Figure 5,196.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 6.—Returns from 2,251 precincts out of a total of 2,377 in California give McKinley 144,952, Bryan 138,756. There are 125 precincts yet to hear from, which in 1892 gave Harrison 1,792, Cleveland 2,093, Weaver 356.

Fear Outbreak in Delaware.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 6.—The militia are on duty in Wilmington ready for an outbreak. The trouble is over the board of canvassers. It is alleged the democrats are attempting to count out the republican county ticket.

In New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Complete returns give McKinley and Hobart 85,000 plurality in New Jersey. The next legislature will stand: Senate—republicans, 18; democrats, 3. House of representatives—republicans, 56; democrats, 4.

WILL STILL FIGHT.

Bimetallic League of England Issues a Manifesto.

London, Nov. 6.—A meeting of members of the Bimetallic League was in session Thursday, engaged in the work of drawing up a manifesto. The manifesto says:

"The recent contest in America has brought home to the people of this country the vital importance of the monetary question and the grave dangers which threaten the industrial, commercial and financial interests of Great Britain, so long as it is not settled on international lines."

"The unreasonable attitude of this country in the past, in the efforts to arrange a settlement, is mainly responsible for the attempt just witnessed to induce the United States to act alone, and for the consequent unrest and disturbance in commercial and financial circles. Therefore it is earnestly hoped that this country and the other great powers of Europe will heartily co-operate with the United States in their endeavor to place the metallic money of the world upon a permanent, sound and scientific basis."

Andrus Mystery Not Solved.

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The inquest into the death of Hamlin J. Andrus, who was killed in his office over two weeks ago by the explosion of a dynamite bomb, has been again postponed, and this time indefinitely. This means, apparently, that official action looking toward the solution of one of the most remarkable mysteries of the times, has been abandoned after a brief period of bluff, bluster, excitement and strange theories.

Pardon for Liliuokalani.

Honolulu, Oct. 29 (per steamer Australia to San Francisco, Nov. 5).—The Hawaiian government has granted a full pardon and restoration of her civil rights to ex-Queen Liliuokalani, based upon the fact that during her parole she has faithfully kept the terms of her partial freedom.

TURKISH AGREEMENT BLOCKED

Czar Thinks Too Much Power Was Given The Ambassador.

Constantinople, Nov. 6.—It is semi-officially announced that Great Britain a month ago proposed that the powers give the ambassadors at Constantinople the authority to draw up a scheme for reforms, ask the Turkish government to execute it and decide upon measures to compel its execution, in the event of the sultan's refusal to do so. The powers were agreeable to the first part of the proposal, but Russia declined to agree to confer upon the ambassadors the power to summon warships to the Bosphorus, and France suggested the addition of a Russian delegate to the administration of the caise of the public debt and to increase its power to the extent of making it a permanent international commission to control Turkish affairs. It is added that in case of a resistance to their wishes the powers favor the dethronement of the sultan.

Czar Asks for Documents.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The czar has ordered all documents connected with the Russo-German secret convention in the possession of the Russian foreign office or of the family of Count Schouvaloff, who was Russian ambassador at Berlin in 1890, to be submitted to him forthwith. Emperor William is also indignant at the recent disclosures. Count Herbert Bismarck is annoyed that the newspapers accuse him of complicity in the revelations.

England to Evacuate Cyprus.

London, Nov. 6.—The Graphic asserts that it learns that the marquis of Salisbury has decided to evacuate the island of Cyprus, and that it is understood that this decision has cleared the way for common action of the powers in Turkey.

Consul-General Lee at Home.

New York, Nov. 6.—Gen. Fitz-Hugh Lee, accompanied by Thomas Jones, his private secretary, arrived from Havana late Wednesday night on the Ward line steamer Vigilance. Gen. Lee said his health had been excellent from the time he left this country, last June, in spite of reports to the contrary. He had been treated with military courtesy by Gen. Weyler, whom he described as a gentleman with pleasant manners, but a strict disciplinarian. Gen. Lee declined to talk about the Cuban question even in general terms. Gen. Lee confirms the reports of the press censorship which prevails in the island and says nothing can be sent out by telegraph which is not first subjected to the scrutiny of the officials.

Murders His Betrothed.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Carl Carlson, formerly an attendant in Fauber's bath rooms at 167 Madison street, shot and killed Laura Belle Thornton in her room in a boarding house at 1330 Michigan avenue yesterday morning. Carlson escaped after the shooting, but in a short time was arrested. After he had been locked up at the central police headquarters he admitted that he killed the woman. Carlson was questioned by Inspector Fitzpatrick, and admitted the shooting. His story was, in effect, that he was engaged to be married to Miss Thornton and killed her through jealousy.

Meets at Rockford.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the Rockford district opened here. The feature of the first session was an address by Dr. W. O. Shepard of Chicago.

Joseph D. McDonald Kills Himself.

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 6.—Joseph D. McDonald, one of Fremont's most active and best known business men, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver at his residence at about 3:10 Thursday morning. The cause of the act is thought to be despondency, caused by the failure of a mining venture, in which he had risked considerable property, in Colorado, and ill health.

Victory for the Firemen.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 6.—F. P. Sargent, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, telegraphs from San Francisco that he has met with a complete success in negotiating with the Southern Pacific. ## VESSELS IN DANGER FROM THE STORM

FURIOUS GALE SWEEPS OVER THE LAKES.

High Winds Drive Shipping to Shelter—
Many Reports of Damage Received—Ohio Fishermen Thought
To Have Been Drowned—Other
News of the Elements Triumph.

Amherstburg, Ont., Nov. 6.—The steamer Parnell, which came in Thursday evening, had lost part of her port bulwarks in the gale. The steamer Prentice parted the tow line to her consort, the schooner Halsted, and the latter came to an anchor a few miles from here. The steamer C. H. Starke and the Pentland, with the schooner Luff and the schooner Naida in tow, are sheltered here. The heavy gale on Lake Erie has lowered the water greatly in the river.

WORST OF THE SEASON.

Southwest Gale on Lake Erie Does Much Damage.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The southwest gale on Lake Erie was the worst storm of the season. The barge C. L. Young, in tow of the steamer George King, bound from Escanaba to Tonawanda, with lumber, broke away from the steamer while entering Niagara river and went onto Horseshoe reef. She will probably be a total loss. The men were rescued. The canal boat May Sidway, in tow of a tug, broke loose in the sea and went on the rocks. She was without cargo and is a total loss. The steamers Caledonia, Italia, Mercuer and Vail left here in the afternoon and got as far up as Grand River, when the gale struck them. They were forced to return here.

Fishermen Thought to Be Drowned.

Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 6.—A heavy storm sudden blew up Thursday morning and raged on Lake Erie all day. One of the Zistill Brothers' gill-netting sailboats, with three men aboard—Henry Mayo, Jacob and George Vergt—is missing and is believed to have gone to the bottom of the lake with the men on it. Half a dozen other fishing-boats were upset and dismantled. The money loss is heavy.

Boats May Be Lost.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 6.—The schooners Petrie and Magdalena, lumber laden for this port left Ludington Wednesday morning and were seen last night by the crew of the schooner Duham, fifteen miles off Holland. The storm struck them soon after and much anxiety is felt for their safety. Both are old boats and would stand but little sea.

Kept Vessels in Port.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 6.—A southwest gale kept boats in port since noon Thursday. At 6 o'clock at night the wind was blowing at a rate of thirty-seven miles an hour and gradually shifting to the northwest.

Raft Breaks from Its Fastenings.

Marine City, Mich., Nov. 6.—The large raft owned by Alger, Smith & Co., which was anchored a mile south of this city, broke loose during the high southwest blow and is stretched across the river, a dangerous obstruction to navigation.

MILTON MADE MERRY OVER THE VICTORY

CITIZENS CELEBRATE M'KINLEY'S ELECTION.

Vote Shows Republican Gain in That Vicinity—Wheelbarrow Bet Is Paid—Other College Village Gossip—Heavy Snow Fall in the County—Other Interesting News Notes.

(THE GAZETTE AGENCY, 100 N. CLARKE, Manager, Milton, Wis., Nov. 6, 1896.)

Wednesday evening some of our citizens decided to celebrate the election of McKinley. A huge bonfire was blazed up and a national salute soon fired. Then bedlam broke loose. A goodly number of "chaps" ranging in age from ten to sixty years armed themselves with rusty years, corn cobs, sleigh bells, cazoos, cow bells, and sleigh bells, conch shells, tin cans, and divers and sundry other ear rattling, noise producing accompaniments, and paraded about town serenading prominent free silverites and foppers. Dunn, Boss & Co., Clarke Brothers, William Cole and J. P. Bullis illuminated and for an hour or more pandemonium reigned in this usually quiet village. The ladies were as enthusiastic as the sterner sex and marched in the parade and blew their horns. F. M. Palmer took a cheerful view of his defeat and his illustration of his being "in the soup" placed in his show window was very pat and excited much merriment.

Vote Shows Republican Gains. The republicans of Milton have every reason to feel well over the result of Tuesday's election in their own town. The figures in The Gazette which show a loss in the republican plurality as compared with that of 1894 are calculated to mislead and the comparisons should be made with 1892. As in 1894 the democratic voters were not out in force and they only polled 115 out of 160 votes. In the late election the republican gain was sixty-five over the vote of 1892, while the democrats had to be satisfied with a gain of two in the largest vote ever cast.

Wheelbarrow Bet Paid. Messrs. Morton and Taylor, college boys, had a wager on the election, and the latter being the winner the former wheeled him around the park in an Irish buggy, costumed in crepe and placards announcing Willie Bryan's defeat.

Some Still Talk Politics. Some of our local politicians cannot desist yet from talking politics, but the greatest majority of the people would enjoy a season of silence on that topic.

Freight Room Continues. The freight room on this division of the Rock River continues and many extra freights are being run.

Rev. Victor E. Southworth will give his lecture "Are We Civilized Yet?" in the Grand Army hall, tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. He will preface the lecture with a pulpit editorial entitled "The Majority and the Minority: What They Owe to Each Other."

Mrs. E. Richardson and Channing Richardson have gone to Mitchell, South Dakota. Mrs. Richardson will spend the winter there with her daughter, Mrs. Walrath.

M. C. Whitford and Miles Rice got out with their snow plows Thursday morning and cleaned off the eighteen inches of snow that covered the sidewalks.

The "Rough and Ready" sextette led by Choirmaster Davy, sang in Clarke Brothers' and Palmer's stores Thursday evening, and are still living. The Seventh Day Baptist social served an oyster supper at their church Thursday evening.

George Beon's little girl is sick with diphtheria. Dr. Seamitz is attending her.

The friends of Miss Sarah Rodger will be sorry to learn that she is in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Crandall are at Oshkosh visiting their son, Pearl Babcock and family.

Miss Hagerty, of Marquette, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Lee. Dr. Sutherland of Janesville, was here Tuesday doing surgical work.

Mrs. W. H. Walrath has been numbered among the sick this week.

Coon and Shaw are doing business in their new location.

The Allen property is being put in repair.

MILTON JUNCTION EVENTS.

Sixteen Inches of Snow Fell Yesterday—One Popcorn Won't Give Up.

Milton Junction, November 6.—Sixteen inches of snow fall in a few hours is something people are not accustomed to. Front doors were blocked. People had to wade knee deep to get to sidewalks shoveled out. One man remarked that even the elements had begun to give a poor man work so soon after election. Mrs. H. E. Miner has been quite sick the past week. Uncle Henry Garthwaite seems nearing the end of his long life of more than ninety years. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark were called to Chicago Tuesday by the death of Mrs. Clark's niece, Miss Ella Covey. Mrs. Bert Button and Miss Buelah Burdick will go to Walworth Friday to attend the funeral, Miss Covey being a cousin of theirs. There was a surprise "allowance" party at Charles Lawton's last Saturday night, those attending being intimate friends of Miss Bertha Lawton. George Keith and family, of Fort Atkinson, have been spending a week with relatives here. Rev. George Burdick and wife went to Stebbinsville, twenty-third anniversary of their wedding, with Mrs. Burdick's brother, Alfred Watson, and wife, whose anniversary occurs the same day. About one hundred of the friends of Pastor Stevens and wife made him a surprise party Wednesday night which left him well supplied with the necessities of life that would last through several such storms as followed the party. The I. O. G. T. held a five cent social at L. P. Hinkley's, Thursday evening. I. Kelly and wife have concluded not to go to Mazomanie this week. There is one Bryan man in this town who won't give up yet, but that his man is elected. He says: "The press is bought up, but when the official count is made up they will find Bryan is elected." The most pleased man over the result of the election was Stewart Chambers. They say he had quite a number of bets standing and of course he won. The ladies of the W. R. C. cleared ten dollars from their lunches on election day. Glenn Williams and Ella Frink were over from Albion Saturday night to attend the party at Charles Lawton's. L. S. Smith moved his household goods into town the day after election. He will occupy the Morgan house opposite the S. D. B. church. Mrs. Carman, mother of Mrs. Will Van Lone, returned to her home at Hebr in Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit here. The friends of Eli Nye found out that Wednesday was his seventieth birthday, so they concluded to go and take tea with him uninvited. They took a nice chair along with them as a peace-offering, and to console him for not having the chance to vote for McKinley. Mr. Nye is an old soldier and a life-long republican, but he had not lived in Wisconsin quite a year, having moved here from Minnesota last spring.

WATER CASE REPORT WAS NOT PRESENTED

MATTER COMES UP AT NEXT COUNCIL MEETING.

Chairman Heddies Has All the Documents, But Had Not Had Time Enough To Call the Committee Together—To Buy a Traction Engine—City Vote Canvassed.

Seven aldermen attended last night's meeting of the council. They heard the statement of Chairman Heddies to the effect that the water works committee could not report until the next meeting. Heard the report of the judiciary committee, which canvassed the vote for justice of the peace.

Changed the name of Motrow street, near the school for the Blind, to State street. Voted to have the street commissioner clear the city sidewalks and crosswalks, of snow. Voted to buy an engine to run the stone crusher, and for use in thawing gutters, etc. Paid a number of bills, including those of the election officers; ordered street repairs; heard reports, etc.

Aldermen Inman, McLean and McKee were the absentees, and Mayor Baines was in the chair. The reports of the board of education, the municipal court, and the city treasurer were received, referred, reported back as correct, etc.

The poll books, etc., for the city election were referred to the judiciary committee.

L. F. Patten Is Elected.

The total vote polled was 2,090. Of this LaFayette Patten received 1,898 and the remaining 192 votes being scattered. The total number of ballots cast in each ward for justice and the number received by Mr. Patten by wards is as follows:

	Patten.	Total.
First ward.....	330	330
Second ward.....	375	380
Third ward.....	522	572
Fourth ward.....	437	447
Fifth ward.....	224	358
	1,898	2,090

The report was adopted.

Alderman Millmore's motion to change the name of McGraw street, near the State School for the Blind, to State street, was adopted. John W. Hamilton was the author of the present name, he said, which fact made it unpopular with the people.

Alderman Kothman, from the park committee, moved that the street commissioner have the snow cleared off from the walks about the parks, around the school buildings and the street crossings; also that the seats in the parks be taken care of and the display of fountains covered. Adopted.

Alderman Heddies, from the special committee on the water works, reported that he had received all of the legal opinions, but as he received Mr. Winans' opinion only yesterday afternoon he had not had time to call a meeting of the committee. He hoped to be able to report at the next regular meeting.

To Buy Traction Engine.

Alderman Stoddard said that the city was paying $5 a day for an engine to run the stone crusher and as the engine had been in use at that price for two or three months, he thought it would be economy to buy the engine. Alex McGregor owned the engine and would sell it for $200. It had cost $1,500 six years ago and was said to be in excellent condition. The city was now paying Mr. McGregor the $5 a day and buying the coal—Mr. McGregor paying the engineer $2 a day. If the city owned the engine $3 a day would be saved. At that rate the engine would soon be paid for. He thought the engine should have been bought before, as the roller was not adapted for running the crusher. When the crusher was needed the roller was also in service, so both were needed. The engine could also be used for thawing gutters, frozen hydrants, etc., for which purpose an engine was now hired when one was needed. He moved that a committee be appointed to investigate and buy an engine—with the proviso that he should not be a member of that committee.

The Motion Adopted.

Alderman Heddies said he agreed with Mr. Stoddard as did also Mayor Baines, but the mayor said that if the city did not take better care of it than it did of the roller last year it would be cheaper to rent one. Alderman Stoddard's motion was then adopted. Mayor Baines appointed as the special committee to investigate the matter Aldermen Stoddard, Burnham and Millmore. Alderman Stoddard protested against his appointment, but the mayor and council insisted.

Alderman Heddies introduced an order directing the street commissioner to build a block cross walk across Ravine street on the west side of Washington street. Adopted.

Alderman Jones introduced an order directing the street commissioner to serve a legal notice upon the owner of block 14, in block 17, in Smith's addition, to build a new sidewalk in front of the lot on Jefferson street. Adopted and the council adjourned.

An Astounding Soap Sale...

The Eighth Wonder of the World

Now on exhibition in our south window, fac-simile of great U. S. Administration Building of Columbian Exposition, built out of 14,466 cakes of fine Medicated Toilet Castile Soap, making the finest and largest display of Toilet Soap ever attempted in the world, and is the GREAT-EST SOAP BARGAIN ever offered in America.

2 CAKES FOR 5 CENTS.

Everybody welcome to all they want of it at this price.

This soap has been made especially for us by the Cincinnati Soap Co., whose soaps have been the standard for over a quarter of a century, and to introduce their soap thoroughly they permit us to sell it TWO CAKES FOR 5 CENTS, for a limited time.

This gives us a power to save money for all persons.

IT IS SO CHEAP THAT IT CAN BE NO CHEAPER.

And so good that it can be no better—the rich, the poor, the learned, and the unlearned meet on one level; the poor can afford a nice Toilet Soap at this price, and the rich can get no better. This soap has a phenomenal sale in all the large cities of the country, and we intend to give the people of Janesville and vicinity the same advantages as New York, Chicago and other cities have.

This is an excellent pure Toilet Soap and is really worth 10 cents a cake. Remember, two cakes for 5 cents. Sale begins Saturday, Nov. 7.

Come early before the rush commences. Sole agents for Rock County and for a radius of thirty miles around Janesville.

There are a great many women who feel that they would be willing to pay about $1 a yard for a dress, skirt, or waist, as the case may be. We are prepared for just such situations and are today offering the grandest BLACK SILKS at $1 a yard that were ever offered over any counter.

We show fully 40 pieces in Luxors, Mascots, Armures, Faibles, Duches, Gros Grains, Rhadames, &c. This store never contained better values in black silks, and a few moments in their atmosphere will easily prove all we claim; you'll say we are too mild in our claims; but we always prefer to understate the facts, knowing what the future will bring forth. That very thing has had much to do with the growth of this great business.

FASCINATORS--

We placed a large import order for them early in the year. Our order was as follows:

42 dozen to retail at 12½c.
26 dozen to retail at 20c.
22 dozen to retail at 35c.

In all 1080 dainty head coverings—black, white, pink, blue and cardinal. The one we have at 12½c is 24 in. square, nicely made, hand some design, and would sell at 20c about as quick.

We don't beg for trade; we compel it. No one can turn a deaf ear to the music of our prices.

For 25c a bleached Turkish Bath Towel worth easily 40c.

For 37½c short ends Table Linen, in desirable block patterns, all colors, extra heavy; lengths 2 to 5 yards. You save 12½c a yard, for it's sold everywhere at 50 cents.

For 68c, 30 dozen Kid Gloves,—worth 85c to $1.25.

We sell Dr. Denton's Sleeping Garments. We sell Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary Underwear. We show a large new line of Mocha Mittens for women and children.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

AND GENERAL DOE WILL HAVE TO GO

JANESVILLE WARRIOR'S HEAD TO BE CUT OFF.

If Grover Does Not Dismiss Him For Offensive Partisanship, He Will Have To Quit Soon, Anyway—Other Wisconsin Appointments—Badger State in Cabinet.

The election of Major McKinley as president of the United States will necessitate the retirement to private life of several distinguished citizens of Wisconsin who are now supporting official dignity and drawing liberal salaries.

On March 4 next, Assistant Secretary of War Joseph B. Doe will have more time to parade in his gorgeous uniform before admiring friends in Badgerdom at the expense of his $4,500 a year salary, and there is a possibility he may be retired even earlier on account of his partisan activity.

There have been rumors to the effect that Assistant Secretary of War Joseph B. Doe of Wisconsin was included in the list of offensive partisans, but it is believed his removal is not contemplated. He confined himself to a statement of his intention to adhere to the democratic party, which was contained in a personal letter to a democratic leader in Wisconsin and this letter eventually was made public in the press. It contained no reflections upon the administration or its policy and even recorded the writer's personal dissent from the Chicago silver plank.

Some Who Will Go.

Other Wisconsin men who will doubtless be effected, and the salaries paid them, are as follows:

J. E. Dodge, Racine, Department of Justice, $5,000 per annum.

S. W. Lamoreaux, Land Office, $5,000.

Ernest Swartz, Land Office, $2,500.

S. W. Lamoreaux's son, Land Office.

Wendall A. Anderson, consul general to Montreal, $4,000 per annum and $5,000 in fees.

Joseph G. Donnelly, consul to Nueva Laredo, $2,500.

P. N. Duester, consul at Crefeld, $2,000 per annum, and 4,000 in fees.

George R. Ernst, consul to Reichenberg, Bohemia, $2,500 per annum, and $5,500 in fees.

Other Wisconsin men on the consular list includes George Keenan at Bremen with about $5,500 in fees and salary, F. W. Kickbusch at Stettin drawing $2,400 in salary and fees, E. J. McBride at Leith, serving his country at a salary of $2,500 and who made $1,784 in fees last year according to the official report, David C. Davis at Swansea, Wales, $6,500 in fees. But civil service rules may save some of these.

Wisconsin and the Cabinet

As is always the case after a presidential election the correspondents are already engaged in making cabinet slates, and innocent enough occupation, if not very profitable at this time. Henry C. Payne, who aspired to the postoffice portfolio in President Harrison's cabinet, is mentioned as a possible appointee to that office by President-elect McKinley on account of his services in the management of the campaign. The belief is expressed here that if Mr. Payne would accept a cabinet position, he could undoubtedly have it, but there is some doubt as to whether he really wants any thing or whether his health would allow him to assume the duties of an office which make such a demand upon him. "If Mr. Payne would take the postmaster-generalship," said one well known republican yesterday, "there is little doubt but that he could have it." The Washington correspondents also mention Congressman Babcock, chairman of the Republican Congressional committee, as a possible cabinet officer—secretary of agriculture—but if Wisconsin should be honored with that portfolio it would seem that ex-Governor Hoard would be more apt to be the man on account of his especial fitness by practical knowledge and experience for the position which the late ex-Secretary Rusk so ably filled.

INGERSOLL TO LECTURE NOV. 16

Will Deliver His Noted Anti-Orthodox Address on "The Bible"

It is now fifteen years since the great champion of religious liberty, Robert G. Ingersoll, was in Europe. Even at that time his fame was great throughout the English speaking countries, and although he did not lecture there then he was received in a way that left no doubt as to the appreciation of his worth as a man, his ability as a lawyer, and his remarkable intellectuality as a platform debater and lecturer.

The English people are now clamoring loudly for him and it is at the urgent request of men in every walk of business and professional life in the larger cities of Great Britain that Manager C. A. Davis is now shaping his plans for next summer. Arrangements are being perfected for Col. Ingersoll's appearance on the lecture platform in London, Liverpool, Manchester, Birmingham, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Dublin. Paris, also, in all probability will be included in the tour. Col. Ingersoll's admirers in England are legion. Many of the English clergy have expressed a desire to hear the man who dares to speak his mind so boldly and brilliantly on theology.

Lecture-goers hereabouts will hear Col. Ingersoll at his test on the occasion of his appearance at the Myers Grand opera house, Monday evening, Nov. 16, where he will deliver his famous anti-orthodox lecture, "The Bible."

gratulations, but that is no indication that he isn't pleased with the result.

Gen. Fitz Lee didn't get home until after election. Who was it that said Fitz was unfitted for diplomacy.

It cannot truthfully be denied that the populists got the worst of their deal with the democrats.

Now let's muzzle the calumny howlers and everybody help push along the business boom.

LINCOLN COULD GET ANGRY.

Example, When His Telegrams Were Delivered to Stanton.

"I have read several of the Lincoln anniversary speeches which have appeared in the papers in the past few days," said Mr. Charles Frederick, "and have been struck with the statement contained in some of them to the effect that Mr. Lincoln seldom got mad, and that when he did get mad, he did not allow himself to get very mad. If these speakers spoke from their personal experience, it is all right, but my personal experience with him one night satisfied me he could get up a terribly good-sized case of mad at times.

"I was a boy at the time and was a messenger for the old American Telegraph Co., which in after years was absorbed by the present Western Union Telegraph. For several days there had been a number of telegrams for the president from army officers, and among them I remember two or three from Gen. McClellan. I don't remember now why they did not come over the military telegraph lines. Well, one night at I started over to the White House with a telegram that I knew came from Gen. McClellan. It was for the president.

"In those days there was always a guard of soldiers stationed at the two avenue gates, as also at the other gates, but messenger boys were generally well-known and they were admitted, day or night, without any question, at least to the front door, where another soldier guard was also stationed. There was always an officer about the door, who received for telegrams. This night, however, I saw Mr. Lincoln coming towards the outer gate, and I thought I would personally hand him the telegram, which I did. He smiled pleasantly enough as he opened it, but a change suddenly came over him.

"Have you the other telegrams?" he demanded of me. I replied that I had but the one, though I informed him that I knew that there had been one or two others that day from Gen. McClellan.

"That is what he says," added the president, "and what annoys me is that I have not received them."

"Then, turning to the sentry, he said: 'Send up to the door for the officer in charge and tell him that when telegrams come here addressed to me they should and must be delivered to me. Tell him also, and by this time the president was very mad, that if he sends any more of my telegrams over to Mr. Stanton's house I'll drive him away from here. Mr. Stanton has enough telegrams of his own, and should not have mine.'

"Though I was but a boy," said Mr. Frederick, "I could see that Mr. Lincoln was mad all the way through, and that, for the moment at least, he was displeased with his war minister, Secretary Stanton, and that he intended exactly what he said. The president, then directing himself to me, continued: 'Boy, tell your folks that I must have my telegrams, and that if these soldiers about the door interfere any more I'll drive every one of them away. I don't want them, and never did want them, about the place.'"

What a Dreadful Man.

It is no doubt true, in a general way, that there is nothing new under the sun, and that everything has been done before, but there is a young man in Berkshire, England, who can certainly lay claim to the distinction of having acted entirely without precedent. He was engaged to be married, and, according to the custom of the country, the forthcoming wedding was announced in the parish church, and they who might have objections to it were invited to make them known. Everything went well at the first reading, but at the second the bridegroom-elect jumped from his seat and forbade his own bans. He then left the church, and the sequel of the story has not been told.—New York Recorder.

Skating by Water Gas.

Prof. Ira Remsen describes in Science a curious case of the accumulation of marsh gas under ice. A number of skaters were on a large artificial lake covered with ice. In places white spots were noticed in the ice, suggesting air bubbles. A hole was bored in the ice and a match applied. The thin jet of flame burst up and the gas was found to be marsh gas, formed by the decomposition of organic matter at the bottom of the lake. Prof. Remsen suggests that skating ponds, illuminated by natural gas, are among the possibilities of the future.

A London School Question.

A mother complained to a London magistrate that a board school teacher required a necklace to be removed from her daughter's neck. The child had worn the necklace since she was three weeks old, and would catch cold if it were removed. The magistrate thought the teacher's request a reasonable one, but said the mother could send her child to another school.

APPLEBY IS AFTER A BAD CHECK MAN

SHERIFF LOCATES N. C. SCHELLENGER, IN ILLINOIS.

Followed Up a Clue, and Learned the Whabouts of the Writer of the Checks That the Banks Refused—Ten Tramps Sleep in Jail—Other Police News

Sheriff Appleby has located N. C. Schellenger, the man who issued the bogus checks to Frank Sadler, and James Gardner, and left today to have a talk with him.

Schellenger told E. W. Palmer, Mr. Sadler's salesman, that he knew the sheriff of Boone county, Ill., and that the horse he was driving was the same breed as one owned by the Sheriff. With this clue to work from Sheriff Appleby started out, and soon located Schellenger on a farm near Belvidere, which place apparently, was Schellenger's home. Sheriff Appleby satisfied himself that his "suspect" was the man he wanted, and then came home. This morning he boarded the train for Belvidere, and unless Schellenger refuses to come back without requisition papers, the sheriff will bring him back to Janesville at once.

Old Soldier Went Astray.

John Deitrich, an old soldier, who said that he had seen better days, was before the municipal court this morning on the charge of being drunk. Deitrich has been an inmate of the soldiers home, in Milwaukee, but for the past seven months had been in this locality on a visit. On the promise that he would return at once, Mr. Deitrich was allowed to go his way.

Ten Tramps Were Here.

Last evening was considered tramp night at the county jail. Ten of the wary travelers applied for lodging and were accommodated. They were turned out this morning on empty stomachs. When the 9:30 freight pulled out on the Northwestern road there were five habos in one car, and three others "caught the train" here.

Trees That Whistle.

The musical or whistling tree is found in the West Indian islands, in Nubia, and the Sudan. It has a peculiar-shaped leaf, and pods with a split or open edge. The wind passing through these sends out the sound which gives the tree its peculiar name. In Barbados there is a valley filled with these trees, and when the trade-winds blow across the islands, a constant moaning, deep-toned whistle is heard from it, which in the still hours of the night has a very weird and unpleasant effect. A species of acacia, which grows very abundant in the Sudan, is also called the whistling tree by the natives. Its shoots are frequently, by the agency of the larvae of insects, distorted in shape, and swollen into a globular bladder from one to two inches in diameter. After the insect has emerged from a circular hole in the side of this swelling, the opening, played upon by the wind, becomes a musical instrument, equal in sound to a sweet-toned flute.

Lengthening Human Life.

The statistics of the British registrar-general show that in Great Britain the span of life is being lengthened. In the decennial period from 1871 to 1880 there was a diminution of the rate of deaths to the thousand as compared with the previous term. In the period from 1881 to 1890 that diminution was maintained and improved upon. In the former term there were 21.27 annual deaths to the thousand; in the latter, but 19.08. This decline in the mortality of all ages taken together is shared by both sexes in almost equal proportions. The years since 1890 show a still greater improvement. Put in another way, there has been between 1881 and 1890 a saving in life equal in the aggregate to 2,192 lives annually in each million of the English population.

There Are Others.

Ask me no Vow, dear heart; the summer's o'er, And now we are to part, to meet no more; But, ah, so kind is gracious nature's plan— You'll love another girl, and I—some man. — Chicago Record.

"Well, that will buy me a cup of coffee, at least."—Life

A Sound Sleeper.

Sound sleep, which Maine resorts advertise as one of Nature's gifts to the Pine Tree state, is not always an unmixed blessing to Maine citizens. An Augusta man before retiring placed his trousers, in a pocket of which was $74, under his pillow and in the morning found the garment, minus the money, in his dining room.

The three year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., of that place; and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. So do C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and I had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. B. B. Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. "This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. ## GLAD WORD IS GIVEN TO OVER 100 MEN

JANESVILLE MACHINE COMPANY HANDS JUBILANT.

Big Plant Starts Up with Full Force on Monday, and Eleven Traveling Men Will Go Out—Farm Implement Men Happy—The Hotels Feel the Change.

Over one hundred men will go to work in the Janesville Machine Company's shops on Monday morning.

For some weeks back the wheels have not been revolving. The directors had decided to close down until the "uncertainty" had passed.

Now that McKinley's election is assured, and it is known that no financial tinkering will be done, the directors have voted to open the works, and push business to the limit.

The employees of the company, as well as the local merchants with whom the employees trade, were overjoyed when they heard the news today. Manager L. B. Reynolds was seen today and told a Gazette reporter that the election had cleared the business atmosphere, and had dispelled all doubts concerning the future. Consequently it had been decided to operate all departments of the big plant. Eleven traveling salesmen will start out next week, and the company is making plans for a larger business than ever.

Implement Men Jubilant.

The Farm Implement News, the leading journal in that line of business, publishes seventy-five telegrams from manufacturers in this week's issue. Among them are the following:

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—Election news entirely satisfactory. We look for better trade and collections.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—Our flag is flying at full mast today over the glorious victory for protection, sound money and prosperity. Business will be better.

J. THOMPSON & SONS MFG. CO. COMPANY.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—A glorious rebuke to the demagogues. Our country's calculations forced to accept the blessings of good government. We look for immediate revival of trade in every line.

E. M. CRANE, Secretary, Thompson Carriage Company, Limited, Racine, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—We expected it, and are perfectly satisfied. There must be decided revival in trade. We expect to crowd for our share of business.

FREEMAN & SONS, MFG. CO. Racine, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—McKinley's election is a great stride toward good times. We intend to start next week.

J. I. CASE FLOW WORKS, Sheboygan Falls, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—McKinley and prosperity. The dawn of day is breaking. We place large orders today for iron and steel. Put on men Monday morning. C. F. SEARCH, President.

Search Manufacturing Company, Racine, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—The result of the election has decided our course with relation to a large volume of business held back on account of the uncertainty. We have started on this morning full time.

A. P. DICKY MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Madison, Wis., Nov. 4, 1896.—Farm Implement News:—We expect revival of business and will operate our factory accordingly.

FULLER & JOHNSON MANUFACTURING CO. Hots: We feel the Change.

There has been a very noticeable improvement in business circles since the election of McKinley. The hotels were the first to feel the improvement, and the registers yesterday showed a better state of affairs than has existed for months. The commercial traveler was very much in evidence about the city, and his chirography adorned the pages of the hotel registry in a manner that will start up business among the blank book manufacturers very soon.

HUNG OUT LANTERN AS SIGNAL TO ELOPE

THIRD WARD MAN DESERTS HIS SICK WIFE.

He Had Drawn the Attention of Neighbors To His Ingenious Telegraph System, and They Saw the Final Notice Given Friday Night—Family in Want.

A Riverview Park wife, sick and helpless, mourns the flight of a husband who is believed to have gone with another woman.

Neighbors are caring for her and trying to determine whether the case is one of desertion or of election fever.

Not since Wednesday night has he been seen. The circumstances under which he disappeared were peculiar.

The man is known as somewhat of a Lothario. From two to four gentle entanglements occupied his mind most of the time. To avoid confusion he devised a system of signals that called his charmers to him one at a time and avoided collisions. He used three lanterns, red, green and white.

To one of his Dulcianas the white hung from a back window meant "Meet me at 9 o'clock." The green meant "caution" and the red meant "Keep away." To another fair one the green lantern bore a message of joy and the red and white each told of danger while their saw no happiness save in beams of red and kept her distance when either a white or a green light shone, convinced by the warning signal, however, of her lover's fidelity.

Neighbors noticed the lights before they had been in use many weeks, and one night twenty of them gathered with stable lanterns and answered back signal for signal. Another night an indignant neighbor let go at the white signal with an ounce and a half of No. 4 shot and scattered broken glass and bent tin all over the lot.

The signals kept up, however, and seldom failed to draw a prompt answer. Wednesday night a lantern was swung violently for several minutes. Then it was put out, the family horse hitched, and the Riverview Park man started for a ride. He has not been back since, and the absence of a young woman with whom he was very friendly makes the elopement theory seem probable.

LA PRAIRIE'S SPECIAL TAX OF $1,000 Washouts Have Made Necessary Considerable Expense For Repairs

A special town meeting will be held in La Prairie next week to vote on the raising of $1,000 to pay for road repairs. Most of these repairs were made necessary by washouts in September and October. The principal question is whether the full $1,000 shall be raised by tax or whether $500 shall be raised and the rest borrowed.

CARPENTER CASE IS AT AN END Building-in-the-River Litigation Passed Upon by the Supreme Court.

Two local cases were before the supreme court yesterday. They were: Sawtelle, respondent, vs. Rexford, appellant. Argued by E. F. Carpenter for respondent and submitted for appellant case and brief.

City of Janesville, appellant, vs. Carpenter et al., respondents. No appearance for appellant, and on motion of respondent, by G. G. Sutherland, judgment affirmed with costs under the rules.

COUPON SYSTEM DOESN'T PAY. Regular Customers of the Road Profit While the Company Loses.

The coupon system that has been adopted by the Janesville street car company is not a paying scheme. Superintendent Cummins says the average person who buys the tickets at wholesale has been a regular patron, so every time ticket given them, means just that much loss to the company.

OLD FRIENDS.

There are no friends like old friends
And none so good and true.
We greet them when we meet them
As roses greet the dew.
No other friends are dearer,
Though born of kindred mold,
And though we prize the new ones
We treasure more the old.

There are no friends like old friends,
Where'er we dwell or roam,
In lands beyond the ocean
Or near the bounds of home.
And when they smile to gladden
Or sometimes frown to guide,
We fondly wish those old friends
Were always by our side.

There are no friends like old friends
To help us with the load
That all must bear who journey
O'er life's uneven road.
And when unconquered sorrows
The weary hours invest,
The kindly words of old friends
Are always found the best.

There are no friends like old friends
To calm our frequent fears
When shadows fall and deepen
Through life's declining years.
And when our faltering footsteps
Approach the great divide,
We'll long to meet the old friends
Who wait the other side.

—David Banks Sickle in New York Ledger.

THE ONE GIRL.

They were standing together out on the moonlit terrace. Behind them in the distance sounded the band playing soft, dreamy waltz music. But what cared they for dancing, and the hot, crowded ballroom? In all the world for him there was only one woman, and she stood, her hands clasped in his, her brown head resting on his shoulder, lost in a happy dream.

"You won't forget me, darling," he whispered, "when I am thousands of miles away, at the other side of the world, and letters are long in coming? You'll remember that I am coming back in two years, at the latest, to claim my little wife."

"Oh, it can't really be true, Geoffrey, that you are going tomorrow? It is too dreadful to think of! And it's not I that will forget. I shall think of you night and day till you come back. But you'll most likely meet with some lovely American girl—all American women are lovely, you know—and then you'll forget all about poor little Mysie Trafford, who is waiting for you in England."

"When I am out on the great lonely prairies," he said dreamily, "I shall just shut my eyes and think myself back to this night. I shall hear the band in the distance, I shall feel you once more in my arms, and I shall smell the faint smell of that heliotrope you are wearing."

For answer she took a piece of the heliotrope from the bosom of her dress.

"Here's a little bit of it," she said. "And when you meet that lovely American, and you wish that you were free and that this evening had never been, then you can put that little flower in an envelope, and you needn't write a word to put in with it, but just address it to me, and when I get it I shall know what it means, and you will be free."

"What nonsense, Mysie!" he said angrily. "Why do you talk like that? You know—"

"Oh, here you are!" cried a shrill voice. "I have been looking for you everywhere. Mr. Castleford is as cross as ever he can be, Mysie. He says you promised him the last two dances, and then you disappeared and no one could find you; while as for you, Mr. Hamilton, I think you had better keep out of the way altogether, after disappointing Lady May and goodness knows who besides."

And Gertrude, Mysie's sister, chattered on, totally unconscious that she was a most unwelcome intruder.

She and Mysie had always been taught that it was their duty to make a good match, and Geoffrey Hamilton, with no money, and just off to America, was so entirely ineligible that she suspected nothing, and ruthlessly insisted on their immediate return to the ball-room.

And she looked often at the little hoop of pearls—the pledge of her betrothal—but never put it on, except in her own room just for a few minutes. Somehow as the days went by it seemed a harder matter to speak of that evening to her mother, the more so that her mother had not the faintest suspicion of anything of the sort. And so a month passed.

Then one evening Mysie returned from a walk and saw a letter lying on the hall table. One glance at her own name and the postmark—"New York"—and she snatched up the letter, wondering if any one had noticed it, then ran upstairs to her own room, and locked the door to enjoy it in peace.

The fire burned brightly and looked inviting, and she drew up a low easy chair, and seated herself comfortably. She broke the seal of the envelope. What was the faint perfume as she did so? She drew out a piece of blank note-paper from the folds of which a little bit of dead heliotrope slipped and fell to the ground.

"Mysie, you must come down," said Gertrude. "Mr. Castleford is down stairs, and mother says you are to come"—as Mysie looked rebellious. "But you must change your dress; you can't come down in that. Has anything happened? You look very queer."

"No," said Mysie, with a strange little laugh; "at least, nothing of importance. I will come down in a few minutes."

And in a very short time she was in the drawing room, and Herbert Castleford, as he looked at her, thought he had never seen her so beautiful. He had loved her for years, but had received so little encouragement from Mysie that he had never spoken, but tonight he had determined to put his fate to the test, while Mysie, with a pain at her heart that seemed almost physical in its intensity, was saying to herself that if Geoffrey could forget so easily why she could she.

And so it came about that a few hours later she returned to her room having pledged herself to Herbert Castleford. Instead of the little hoop of pearls she had never worn she possessed a handsome diamond ring, and the dead flower and the pearls were put far away out of sight to be forgotten—if possible.

Six months had passed and Herbert Castleford was pressing for an early marriage. Mysie and her mother had gone away from home immediately after her becoming engaged. Mysie complained of the cold and loneliness that her mother put her away to the south of France, where, soon after, Herbert followed them.

Mysie seemed willing for the wedding to take place whenever they liked to arrange it. So matters were being hurried on to suit the impatient lover when one day Gertrude ran into the room where Mysie and Herbert were sitting.

"Look, Mysie!" she cried. "Here is a lovely bunch of flowers from that dear count! Isn't he silly? And they are such beauties! Only smell them. Oh, I am so pleased! Look! Here are a bit of heliotrope and some maidenhair that will just do for you."

To her surprise Mysie turned as pale as death, and shrank back, looking almost appealingly at her lover, who was watching.

As their eyes met there was something in his—an expression, a consciousness, a what? Mysie did not know, but a great trembling came over her.

A hundred thoughts seemed to pass through her mind in a moment, but of one thing she was certain—Herbert Castleford knew all about those playful, loving words spoken out on the terrace on the never-to-be-forgotten night.

Then, leaning forward, she asked, as if they had already been speaking to one another:

"How did you send it from New York?"

"I—that is—what do you mean, Mysie? I never sent it!"

Seeing that Mysie's clear eyes seemed to read him through, he attempted no more denial, but caught her hands in his and implored her to forgive him.

"I came out to look for you that night," he said, "and I heard what you were saying just as Gertrude came upon you from the other side, and it was such a temptation, for I loved you dearly—much better than he did. It was all done for love of you, Mysie."

And she tried to wave him away, but instead fell fainting to the ground.

When she recovered, Herbert Castleford had gone. A few hasty lines from him besought her forgiveness and told her that Geoffrey was now on his way back to England to find out why she had not written to him; that he hoped they would have been married before Geoffrey could arrive, but that now he would go away and never trouble her again.

"You will forgive me, Geoffrey, won't you," she said, "for doubting you like that? But it seemed so terribly true! Look! Here are the envelope and flower."

"And here is the flower you gave me," said Geoffrey. "There's not much difference certainly between them, but as for the envelope—well, I must give you a few specimens of my handwriting when I go away again so that you may not be taken in so easily."

"But I shall never let you go away again," said Mysie.

And that was how they arranged it.—Forget-Me-Not.

American Lamps in Paris.

The terrible use made by the Communards of 1871 of petroleum for conflagration purposes produced such an impression on the French mind that people recoiled even at the mention of kerosene. So the American kerosene lamps, which were then just beginning to get a foothold in France, were relegated to the limbo of dangerous innovations. Then came the exhibitions of 1878 and 1889, with our particularly good show of new, improved and artistic lamps. The memories of 1871 were quickly forgotten, and today the use of candles and the old "pump lamps"—gas has never been a general means of domestic lighting in France—has gone down before the American substitute, which has not only invaded the Parisian bedroom and parlor, but has even found favor in the chateaux along the Loire and has worked its way into the plain homes of the remotest villages. One of the American lamp exhibitors received so many orders during the exhibition of 1889 that he established a branch store in the best part of commercial Paris, where he has been doing a thriving business ever since.—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Trick of the Trade.

A lady who has been in London told me that as she and her husband were walking along the Strand one day—and they don't think that they look ferociously American—the vender of a kind of bagpipe whistle was displaying his wares by playing various tunes.

As our compatriots passed him he struck up "Yankee Doodle," and when that didn't seem to have any effect he followed it with "The Star Spangled Banner."

Such ingenuity deserved reward, so the couple purchased one of the pipes.

"How did you know I was an American?" demanded the gentleman.

"Ow do I know a duck's a duck?" was the reply. "Hi'm an old sailor, your honor, han I've been heverywhere. When a Scotchman goes by hi give 'im 'Bonnie Dundee,' han Irishman, 'The Wearing of the Green,' han I cort ha ducky just now with 'The Hold Folks hat 'Ome.'"—Polly Pry in New York Recorder.

Cigarette Smoking.

Cigarette smoking in England dates back to 1844. The great impetus to their increased use was caused by the Crimean war of 1854-6, when numbers of military and naval officers adopted this method of smoking from the inhabitants of Russia, Turkey, Malta, the Levant and other parts of Europe.

An Artist in His Line.

"What's Ratsy doing on the Howler?"

"He's the hall statistic man."

"What's that?"

"Why, that's the feller that looks after the attendance at the political meetings. He's got it down fine, too. If the hall seats 4,000 he puts 19,601, or something like that, inside of it, and 26,000 on the outside. If it's a tent holding 12,000, he makes it cover from 24,000 to 29,000. When it's a meeting in a little hall over a saloon he puts a couple of hundred on the stairways, fills the fire escapes and has enthusiastic patriots roostin' on the chandeliers and dangling from the picture moldings. He's the feller that works the 'sea of upturned faces' and 'tidal-wave-of-humanity' business and the composers all have standing orders to put 'by actual count' before every combination of figures that Ratsy puts on paper. Oh, I tell you the boy is an artist in his lyin'—I should say line."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Overplayed.

"Er man kin keep ergoin' an' ergoin' on, makin' bluffs, foh er long time," remarked Erastus Pinkley. "But somebody's gwine ter call 'im sooner or later."

"Who's de tex ob dishere sermon?"

"Razzer Joe. He wah goin' roun' offerin' ter bet ten dollahs on anything dat dah was spoit in. He had 'em all skyaht. He was jis a flourishin' dat ten dollahs aroun' an' a walkin' gran' and talkin' loud, an' shakin' de crap dice by way er aggravating, an' de fus' ting he know—"

"Somebody done took 'im up?"

"Yas, indeed. An' de 'portant paht of it is dat 'twas er policeman."—Washington Star.

The Envious Poet.

"It would be nice to be a gas meter," sighed the poet when his wife handed him the grocer's account and the bill for rent had just been presented.

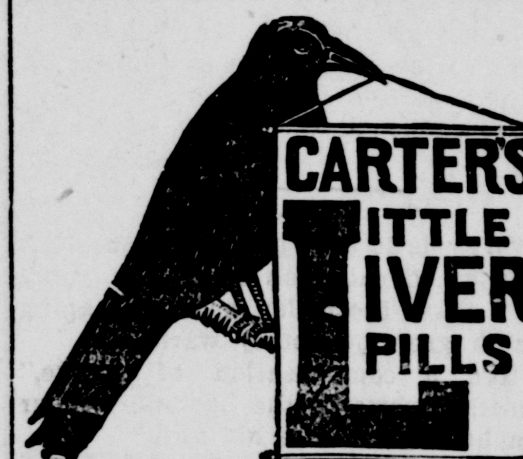

"Which doesn't seem to have any particular bearing on the payment of those bills," remarked the wife as she turned to tell the collectors as sweetly as possible to call on the day after tomorrow.

"But it does, you know," said he, not minding the interruption. "Now, if I was a gas meter instead of a poet I should be steadily at work and get paid for all the 'feet' I turn out. The meter, you see, has the best of it."—Exchange.

Suited Him.

Railway official (traveling incog. on his own line)—They say there has been some fault found with the lamps in these trains owing to the dim light they give. Do you see anything wrong with them? Passenger—No, sir. On the contrary, they are exactly the kind of lamp I like to see used in the carriage. Railway Official (highly pleased)—I presume you are a professional man? Passenger—Yes, sir. A WEALTHY HERMIT EMERGES.

Ready to Shower Golden Treasure Upon His Relatives.

George S. Farnwell, the southern Oregon hermit, 75 years old, passed through Portland for San Francisco the other day, after an absence of forty years, says the San Francisco Call. During that period he eschewed the society of his fellow-man as much as possible, never venturing into populated sections of southern Oregon except when he needed supplies, and that was not more than twice a year. He settled in the wilds some miles distant from Grant's Pass, nearly thirty-five years ago, and it is doubtful whether five score of people in that section of the country are aware of his existence. When Farnwell first settled there the country swarmed with Indians and wild beasts. The Indians once made him captive, but they soon came to regard him as a supernatural being and he was released. For the first time in almost a generation, Farnwell broke his reticence while waiting for the departure of the train that was to carry him to the scenes that knew him when he was young. "After I had been with the Indians a few months, they driving me to all kinds of servile work," said the old man, "scarlet fever broke out among a dozen of their papooses. As early as that time I packed a chest of homeopathic medicines with me. When the Indians captured me they relieved me of my medicines, as well as all else I had, but because of some superstition they left my medicine chest intact. When the disease broke out among the little ones and four of them died under aboriginal treatment I volunteered to cure the rest if my box of mystery was returned to me. The Indians feared to trust me at the outset, but after a consultation, during which another papoose died, my request was acceded to. In the meantime ten more little Indians were attacked with the scourge, and I quarantined all of the sick. My medicines worked miracles and under my treatment not a person died. I was looked upon as a great medicine man, and after that my former masters became my servants. Through these Indians I was enabled to locate a very rich mining property, of which to this day no white man but myself knows anything. I have 1,000 pounds of mixed gold stored away in a place where no one will discover it. In yonder little chest I have 100 pounds of the metal which I am taking to the San Francisco mint. I mined merely to keep myself occupied until death claimed me, for I never expected to associate with my kind again." Farnwell said that the only circumstance tending to change his mind was a brief notice of an ensuing marriage of one of his granddaughters, which he saw in a San Francisco paper a few weeks ago. Not once in five years did he glance at a newspaper, and to him it seemed providential that he should have seen this one. "It appears to me to be a command from the Almighty," said the old man, "that I must again mingle with my own flesh and blood. The article stated that the young lady's grandfather had been receiving teller with Page, Bacon & Co., in San Francisco, up to within a few months of the failure of the house during the panic of 1896. I being the man, I resolved to fix my son's girl so she wouldn't want for anything the heart desires in this life. That is why I am going to San Francisco."

A Dog Who Knows a Thing or Two.

A physician who resides in a neighboring town has a dog which he claims can beat the canine world for agility, intelligence, and all-round usefulness. The animal is a massive black fellow, and has never been known to enter a gate to reach a place if he can obtain his ends by jumping a fence. He acts as mail carrier for the doctor, and when he gets a letter from the postman, whom he always meets upon the pavement, he will clear the high iron railing in front of the house, and make for the front door knob, which long practice has enabled him to turn with a dexterous twist of his paw. He will never deliver a letter to any one but the physician, who thinks so much of him that he almost believes the dog might be taught to compound pills.—Elmira Advertiser.

Pat's Plowing.

An Irish laborer, who was somewhat new to his work, was plowing one day, and the furrows being uneven, the farmer told him to look at something at the other end of the field as a guide. "That cow by the gate," said he, "is right opposite us. Now, work straight for her." "Right you are, sur," says Pat. Coming back, later on, the farmer was quite horrified to find the plow had been traveling zigzag all over the field. "How is this?" said he. "What have you been doing?" "Shure, sur," was Pat's reply, "I did what you told me. I worked straight for the cow, but the craychur didn't kape still."

The Curfew in Kansas.

The curfew in Kansas City, Kan., sends the old people to bed earlier than formerly, as well as the children. When the youngsters are all safely housed there is no occasion for their parents to sit up and consume hard coal and gas. The effect of the curfew is so marked that the drug stores close at least half an hour sooner than under the old system.

Examining Attorney—If either counsel should say to you that circumstantial evidence, unsupported by direct testimony, could in no sense decide the trend of the benefit of the doubt, what would you understand by that? Talesman—That he did not want me on the jury.—Exchange.

JAPANESE SUICIDES.

How the Price of Rice and the Fiscal Year Affect Subjects.

An essay on the prevalence of suicide in Japan has been written by Mr. Saito Kokufu, a native statistician. The statistics extend over ten years, and show that suicide has been on the increase in Japan, both actually and in proportion to the total number of deaths. In 1885 and 1886 the number in proportion to the population reached its highest. Mr. Saito observes that during these years there was a great rise in the price of the necessities of life. In the case of Japanese women, the age at which suicide is most frequent is about twenty; the corresponding period with men is twenty-five. Comparatively few women commit suicide after the twenty-fifth year, but men are not safe until they are past forty. The number mounts rapidly month by month from January to May, and keeps high until July, falling to its lowest in November. The suicides of December and January are attributed partly to pecuniary troubles at the close of the year, when all accounts are supposed to be closed and all liabilities met. A rise in July is attributed to financial troubles at the half-year. In recent years the use of the sword by suicides has decreased greatly; hanging is the method most frequently employed, nearly three-fourths of the male suicides and nearly half the females terminating their lives this way; but among women drowning is more common even than hanging. Firearms and poison are very rarely used, probably because they are not readily obtainable, while a Japanese of either sex always has a long girdle and always has water sufficient in the deep wells in every village and adjacent to almost every house. The figures show that the number of suicides varies year by year with the price of rice. No attempt is made in the statistics to distinguish between educated and uneducated persons who commit suicide; it seems, however, that the view of the educated Japanese is that he has a right to commit suicide if he thinks his life has been a failure or that it has become an intolerable burden to him.

TWO ROYAL PERSONS.

The Delicate Prince of Naples and His Buxom Montenegrin.

It would be difficult to find a greater contrast than that between the Prince of Naples and the Princess Helene of Montenegro, to whom he was recently betrothed. The heir to the Italian throne is but little over five feet in height and very delicate. The princess is a handsome, black-browed woman of remarkable strength and good health. It is evidently intended to build up the physical strength of the Italian royal house. The bride's family has not enjoyed princely rank for more than two centuries and its members are representative Montenegrins, a race of mountaineers. The Montenegrins are greatly pleased with the alliance of their princess with the heir of a first-class throne. A few nights ago the crowd broke into the palace, which abuts on the principal square of the capital, seized Prince Nicolas—it required twelve stalwart mountaineers to lift him—the Crown Prince Danilo, and the bridegroom elect, and carried them shoulder high down the main street.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

FEW KNOW ABOUT THE SHAKERS.

AN INTERESTING, GOD-FEARING PEOPLE WHO HAVE GIVEN THE WORLD MANY IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES.

We may not accept their peculiar religious beliefs nor can we enter into the spirit of their sacrifices. It is not necessary to believe as they do, but we can and do respect their sincerity of purpose and the honor and uprightness which marks all their business dealings.

The Shakers have always been successful inventors, and some of the greatest of the conveniences of the present day found origin in their settlements.

In one particular they excel all other men or classes of men, and that is in cultivation of medicinal herbs and plants and their preparation for use. They have made it a study for more than one hundred years. It is one of their peculiar industries. Their lives have been devoted to it.

Their latest and greatest achievement is the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It is not offered as a cure for all diseases. It does not pretend to be, but one disease it will cure, and that is indigestion.

Sufferers who resort to its use have not long to wait to see the result. The effect is almost immediate. The first dose usually gives relief and if continued a permanent cure will follow.

It not only contains already digested food, but it digests food as well, thus toning up the general system. An interesting pamphlet is now being issued by the Shakers and can be had for the asking at almost any drug store.

Try a twenty-five cent bottle of Digestive Cordial and see what it will do for you.
